Potlatch Has Talent!!

Potlatch kindergarten through 12th grade students worked this spring to put together a music CD. It's full of great songs featuring over 300 Potlatch students. PLUS – an added bonus is a second CD full of songs from Potlatch alumni and including the Potlatch community band! The 2-disc set including more than 35 songs is only $10 and can be purchased at local businesses. Money from CD sales will help accomplish music program goals for the coming school year including updates to our classroom recording technology and equipment, purchase of additional drum circle instruments, sheet music for our music library, a binding machine and supplies for music workbook projects, a baritone for the bands and instrument repairs.

Contribute to a great cause AND listen to some beautiful music! Get yours now while supplies last!

Quilts for Rotaplast!

Five students in Mrs. Sawyer's clothing class constructed small quilts to send to children far away following cleft palate surgery. Trina Richardson, Kelsie Judson, Tyler Minden, Megan Kilborn and Hope Burnett worked for about a month in class putting together machine quilted blankets to send to needy children. Connie Hall, from Moscow Rotary club said, "What a wonderful learning opportunity for your students, to work on a project that will truly change a child's life. A special thank you goes out to Marilee Sherwood for sharing her time and talent every morning with these students. The colors, workmanship and final products are fantastic. Think of all the smiles that these quilts will bring!"

Children are often sent home from these life-saving surgeries in disposable paper blankets – and now they have a clean, cozy quilt that will be loved. Thanks to the PHS students who shared their time and talents!

These students also contributed several pillowcases to the 1 Million Pillowcase Challenge. Besides that, they made handbags, and other items for themselves during this semester long Family and Consumer Sciences class.

Goodbye as Two Leave PHS
Robin Porter and Joe Kren are both leaving Potlatch School District. Mr. Kren moving on to a Superintendent position St. Maries, and Robin Porter is retiring after 33 years as Special Education Educator in our district. We send our best wishes to both of these fine, dedicated workers.

JUNE LEADERSHIP

With the coming of summer and school being dismissed, the monthly Little Logger Leader report from Potlatch Elementary won't be seen again until September. As to continue in the theme of leadership, we would like to share with you other achievements in leadership that our students have demonstrated over this past year.

During Red Ribbon Week, Floyd's Excel Bags were decorated for distribution week of 10/25-10/29. Contest winners for Floyd's Bag Art were: First Allyson LeForce, Second Kory Bahlman, and Third Corbin Hansen.

The following students represented their classes in our local Geography Bee: Autumn Barnhill, Jamie Shattuck, Nate Bowman, Kolton Krasselt, Braden Morris, and Emily Timlin. Braden Morris was awarded our local champion. Kolton Krasselt placed second. Jamie Shattuck placed third. Braden completed his state qualifying test and participated at the state level in Boise.

This year in the Elks Hoop Shoot, Devin Richards won the boys 12 – 13 year old age group and Kati Paul won the girls 8 – 9 year old age group. Tyler Wilcoxson (boys 8-9), Dacota Hadaller (boys 10-11), Chris Judson (boys 10-11), and Kendall Guettinger (girls 10-11) attended the local competition from Potlatch. Devin and Kati competed in the regional competition in Lewiston. Devin won his division and competed in Kellogg placing fifth.

At our school level spelling bee, Steffen Riley and Chloe Mitchell represented Third Grade. Josh Sheffler and Kylee Anderson represented Fourth Grade. Jessica Nygaard and Bailey Clark represented Fifth Grade. Zach Dockins and Marlin Jones represented Sixth Grade. Jessica Nygaard won the local competition and represented Potlatch Elementary at the Regional Spelling Bee in Lewiston.

Katie Paul entered and won a flag design contest. Katie's design represented the state of Idaho in Washington D.C. at the Youth Art Month Ceremony. From there it was on display, with the other 49 state flags, at the National Arts Education Association Convention. It was also sent to Arizona to another convention. The flag now is on display in the Potlatch Elementary hallway. Katie's first name, school, and photo appear in a special book about the artists.

In our Readers as Leaders Program, Jerrod Nicholson won a $25 silver award gift certificate and Lily Veith, won $50 gold award gift certificate. A total program accounting for our students is as follows: 76 students received silver awards, 24 students received gold awards. 51 students and their families attended U of Idaho Readers as Leaders award basketball game.

Two of our sixth grade students, Brookelyn Carpenter and Mack Judson were chosen for their poetry to represent Potlatch Elementary in Moscow at the Pleiades Poet's reception.

The Potlatch Lion's Club asked the Sixth Grade students to generate a theme for this year's Potlatch Days. The Seventh Grade Leadership class collaborated with the Sixth Grade and themes were created as well as posters for the themes. The theme "Country Roots and Cowboy Boots" by Sixth Grader Trina Peck was chosen as this year's theme.

Potlatch Elementary was represented by Autumn Barnhill, Cassie Andres, Brooklyn Carpenter, Jamie Shattuck, Megan Wold, and Rylee Chambers in the Mars Rover competition at the University of Idaho. They tied for first.

Tyson Tucker's art work was chosen from over 600 entries statewide to appear in the 2011-2012 Highway Safety Kids Calendar. He is one of 14 students chosen statewide.

An experiment produced by our Sixth Graders was reproduced on the international space station for comparative results in "0" gravity. Recently, the sixth graders received their science experiment video back from the international space station. Keep an eye out to see our student's work reproduced in space!

Due to our community and their support, Potlatch Elementary continues to foster leaders of today who will lead in the future. For this, we thank you. Our hope is for all to enjoy their summer.

JUNCTION LUMBER NEWS

Where we don't laugh at you unless you're funny!

Doesn't appear to be a very good gardening year and I've heard more than one person say they ain't puttin' one in. It's been depressing but on the other hand it's gotta be good for something. If anyone knows what that is, please let me know. On the other hand, we should be thankful and stop complaining because there's a lot of places that got hammered that would have traded with us in a heartbeat. Won't be long and there'll be a whole lotta whining going on about the heat. Furthermore, if we had everything we wanted we'd have nothing to look forward to. So enjoy what we get!

We have railroad ties and lots of gardening supplies that you might be able to still use. Propane at the moment is $2.63 with easy access for motor homes. We have a large line of feeds and other products relating for farm and home use. Check us out, we have a little of almost anything.

I remember watching a movie where a little kid put his tongue on a frozen metal lamp pole and it stuck like super glue. It's kind of hard yelling for help in a peculiar situation such as this, and in most cases you have an audience that is so busy laughing that they can't help or don't want to because of the good time they're having at your humiliating expense. Can you imagine being six years old and have that happen to you? All your so called friends are laughing and telling ya how stupid you are, all the while you're trying to yell between sobs; "Mah pung ish fousson anh aats puck ta duh pup, pezz hup eee!" Translated; "My tongue is frozen and it's stuck to the pole, please help me!". So you're wondering where I'm going with this? The story I'm about to tell is true and I ain't changing any names to protect the poor unfortunate soul involved. The person I'm about to reveal didn't do anything stupid like the little boy in the movie, but if what he did was in a movie, I'm afraid it would have to be rated R. Beings it's not, the kids can stay in the room. Chance and Becky Krasselt decided to remodel their bathroom, although I have a feeling it was more Becky than Chance. While the remodeling was in progress they used their small camper trailer for showers. After a few days of working at Potlatch Pack and coming home to the bathroom project, Chance wanted to soak in the tub instead of a shower. Could have been a bubble bath as far as I know, didn't get all the particulars. Now you have to remember that tubs in campers ain't very big and Chance is. After filling it he climbed in and I'm assuming he took them big boots off you always see him wearing. There is one thing that I don't understand. How in the world was there any water left in that tub after he got in? You take a four foot tub and a larger than average person, and you would think his knees had to be hitting his chin and all the water would be on the floor. On the other hand, with most of the water on the floor there was little chance of big Chance drowning. This gets better, so don't go away. When he was all done taking his bath, playing with his toy boats or whatever he does while bathing he tried to stand up and realized he was stuck. Yup, you heard right, CHANCE WAS STUCK IN THE BATH TUB!!!! At this time he started yelling for Becky to help him. Well Becky wasn't much help at all when she seen what was going on because of her hysterical laughter, while rolling on the floor. I believe she got wetter than he did. At this time it was lookin like it might take a bottle of Joy dish soap to break him free unless of course it was suction that was holding him down. In that case Becky would have had to call the Potlatch Fire and Rescue. Luckily for Chance she was still laughing so hard she couldn't hit the 911 buttons and in the meantime Chance was able to work himself free. Last time I seen Chance he appeared pretty humble. Last time I seen Becky, she was still laughing.

Random Act of Kindness—Thank-You!

The Random Act of Kindness for Paul Farley, who was involved in a motorcycle vs. deer accident, was a huge success. Only in our wonderful community that we call home, does this happen. Thank-you to everyone that helped and made this event possible. You have inspired us!

More than half of the tickets purchased, you put Paul's name on. Another quarter of you put Paul's name on half the tickets and yours on the rest. We are humbled by your generosity and kindness.

If you did not stay for the mower races, the winner of the B.E.T.R. Loading System/Tailgate Ramp was Gary Lam, and the load of wood logs winner was Paul Farley. On behalf of everyone in the Farley family, we thank each and everyone one of you! Paul, Mary, Debi, Linda and Terry

OUR SCHOOLS

(from the Superintendent of the Potlatch School District)

Normally, each month I hope that in this space I will be able to share with you information that keeps you informed about our students, our schools, and our district in general. However, I thought my initial entry in the newsletter needed to be about me; not because I enjoy talking about myself (okay, sometimes I do), but I believe the students, staff, parents, and community of Potlatch need to know a little bit about their new superintendent.

As for me, on a personal level, I currently live down in Juliaetta with my wife of 24 years, Kim, and our two children, Elle (20) and Gabe (16), who is a junior at Kendrick High School. I enjoy reading, golfing, attending and watching all kinds of sporting events, swimming at the beach, and traveling to the Oregon coast with my family.

On a professional level, I have been involved in schools and education for the past 23 years, with 13 of those years in administration. For the past six years, I have been the Principal/Athletic Director at Kendrick Junior-Senior High School. So why the move to Potlatch then? As it turns out, from 1998 to 2000, I served as the Director of Special Education at Potlatch and in those years I developed a great relationship with students and staff in the district. I enjoyed my time here tremendously, so when the opportunity to apply for this position arose, I went after it. And as a result, here I am!

I want to thank those in the community who have welcomed me on board and I am truly excited to be part of the district again. Most of all, thank you to all for the support you have shown throughout the years for our students and our programs. Working together, we can all make a difference for our schools and our community. Please contact me if you have any questions or would like to meet. My door will (almost) always be open.

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT
SCENIC SIX FIDDLE SHOW

The eighteenth annual Scenic 6 Fiddle Show is set for Saturday, August 6, 2011 at 6:00 p.m. at Potlatch High School. The show features regional fiddling and related folk music. A donation requested at the door is $5 for adults. Fiddlers and others wishing to participate can sign up from 5:00-6:00 p.m.

Potlatch Junior Jammers will open the show. The youth group includes string players under age 18 led by Mabel Vogt, Potlatch. Vogt is an Idaho and Northwest Regional champion fiddler who has taught fiddle and directed the Jammers for 30 years.

Each participant performs two tunes with accompanists of their choice. Musicians in past programs included banjo, mandolin, guitar, harmonica, Dobro and accordion players, as well as vocalists.

Refreshments will be available from 5 pm through intermission. The Potlatch Presbyterian Lutheran Community Youth Group will be raising funds for their activities through their food and beverage sales.

"The fiddle show features music that is part of a living folk tradition practiced in this area," said Vogt. "It's a unique opportunity to hear an old time style of music that isn't often heard in the commercial media." Most participants play by ear. The tunes are passed down aurally from one generation to the next. The music was traditionally played for dancing, which can be heard in the emphasis on strong rhythm.

MC for the evening is Anna Vowels, a fiddler who grew up in Potlatch. She is an attorney living in Newman Lake, Washington.

Seating is chair, bleacher or personal lawn chair. Camping space for RV or tent at Scenic 6 Park is available by contacting City Hall. Potlatch Arts Council produces the show with the support of area sponsors and volunteers. For more information contact Mabel Vogt (208) 875-0947 or Ida Courier 875-0853.

VOLLEY BALL TOURNAMENT sponsored by the class of 2013

1st place: Nathan Glassman, Ashley Glassman, Jenny Sapp, and Julie Anderson

We want to thank everyone for all of the help. It just shows us that Potlatch Days can just keep improving. A special thank you to the City of Potlatch for all the help and the use of the facilities. Thanks to Debbie Dockins and Ray Lienhard for the announcing during the parade and at the park. Contact a member of the Lions Club if you have any suggestions that will improve the day.

Now let's start preparing for July 21, 2012.

There have been a few suggestions for next year here is a sample: Bring back the Demo Derby, more remote control planes and other vehicles, Friday night kick off dance at the park while things are getting set up. The rest is up to the community, we want it to be an event the entire family will enjoy.

Family and friends mark your calendars for August 6th. Herschel and Elaine have been stable mates for 50 years and we are getting together for an afternoon of "horsing around" to include pitching horseshoes (minus the horse) and pasture golf where everyone is handicapped. The arena for the event will be the Pines RV Park near Harvard ID. We'll meet from around 1pm until 4pm. Bring the entire family for an afternoon of visiting, swimming, and celebrating. There are camping spots available for those who can make a weekend of it. Your gift to Herschel and Elaine will be your attendance and no other gifts are required. Please pass the information to family members and those we may have missed. We'll see you there for an afternoon of fun.

Directions to the Pines RV Park are: East on Highway 6 (Potlatch Y) to Mile Marker 12.5. Call for camping and tenting spots (208) 875-0831 or (208) 661-4271

JUNCTION LUMBER NEWS

Where it can get pretty deep when Wayne Glassman is in the store!

Our unusual moist southeast Alaska type weather was good for the hay crops as far as growing, but on the other hand, the harvesting part is leaving a lot to be desired. Don't appear to be enough days in between showers to get things dried enough to bale. I see now where the saying "make hay while the sun's shining" comes from. It's kinda like commercial fishing. If the weather is foul, the production goes down. So here it is well into summer and seems it ain't even started yet. Nuff complaining, so let's move on.

The Girl's Potlatch Softball team is raising money for new uniforms and breakaway bases by doing an aluminum can drive. Please give 'em a hand by dropping cans off at Junction Lumber or Sheila's P.S. Espresso. Call Tamy Lisher at 875-1530 for more info.

The annual Potlatch Fire and E.M.T. volunteer appreciation day will be held in conjunction with George Lisher's potato soup and the sunflower contest on the 10th of September. If you wish to help or donate, call Dale at the Junction. If you should happen to see one of these great people, give 'em a hug or a pat on the back. Can you imagine hugging Tom Barrett?!

I've been so busy that I was unable to find the time to pick on anyone this month, so had to do a rerun. Then again, people seem to be avoiding me for fear of getting in print. So if ya' all have any dirt on some deserving soul let me know, I won't be too rough on them.

PAIN ON THE PALOUSE?

It's odd how someone's misfortunes can turn into hysterical amusement for others. Take for instance, Delfred Cone. Early the other morning, Del was at Sherry's Café drinking coffee and discussing the events of the day along with the rest of the guys. (Some people call it something else, like where boots are required). We were wondering why Del was walking with a slight limp and he proceeded to tell us about a recent unpleasant, painful and embarrassing experience he had while driving his tractor. It seems as though the metal seat had a crack in the front part of it and when he sat on the seat, the crack opened up. We all know that Delfred ain't no light weight and can understand how this phenomenon could happen.

Everything was fine until he tried to get up –yep; you guessed it, the crack closed up! Now this is a "G" rated family friendly style newsletter so I'll try to choose my words carefully as I wish not to offend anybody, especially Delfred.

According to Del, a part of his –ahhh – anatomy became pinched each time he tried to stand up. He therefore had to quickly sit back down so that the crack would open to ease the pain. Each time he tried to get up, the pain became more severe. He tried to yell for help but all that would come out, was a faint squeak, that couldn't be heard over the noise of the tractor. By this time, we were all laughing so hard we never did hear how he finally got out of this peculiar situation. If he was looking for sympathy, he didn't get any from the guys, although Tim McKinney said he would weld the crack shut. Thanks for the laugh Del, you made our day.

OUR SCHOOLS

Edgar W. Howe was an American novelist, journalist, and newspaper editor in the late 19th/early 20th century. He had a very quick wit and made this observation once in one of his editorials: "If there were no schools to take our children away from home part of the time, our insane asylums would be filled with mothers."

Let's face it, the summertime is great but even parents secretly start counting down the days to when school starts. I don't know if Mr. Howe had children of his own but he certainly understood what effect children had on their mothers (and fathers) when left alone with each other for too long of a time. He certainly had a good sense of humor.

It is August and the start of school is just around the corner – August 30th to be precise – and the school's are getting ready to open their doors, buses are being shined up for a new year, and teachers are putting up their "back to school" bulletin boards. The signs are there that school is ready to begin. With that beginning comes new and exciting opportunities for students to learn and be successful. From Kindergartners taking their first "steps" into the classroom, to Seniors who are counting down their days to Graduation already, the first days of school are fun, exciting, and pretty cool for students and staff alike.

We want our community to experience that excitement and that fun too. Take the time to go to our website (www.potlatchschools.org) and browse through the Calendar of Events. See what's going on in our schools and celebrate this year with us. I want to personally invite the community to attend our Junior-Senior High Open House on Wednesday, September 7th and/or our Elementary School Open House on Thursday, September 8th. Take the time to visit with our teachers and our administrators. See for yourself why I believe we are in for an outstanding school year!!

Potlatch Community Band

The Potlatch Community Band will resume its second session in September. So dust off your instruments and get ready to play! We meet twice a month on the 1st and 3rd Thursdays in the High School band room.

Our second public performance will be during the first half of December. If you have any recommendations for pieces to practice and/or perform, let me or Doug Richards know. (We do have some money from our first performance to purchase some music, tee-shirts, band folders or something not yet thought of). Your next message will be "Get Set" with more details. Until then, don't forget to practice from time to time. If you need more information call Alice Rockhill at 208-875-1578.

JUNCTION LUMBER NEWS

Where we don't judge folks by their relatives.

The Potlatch Girls Baseball team is having an aluminum can drive to purchase new uniforms, so if you have any kickin' around, drop 'em off at the Junction; it will be greatly appreciated.

The Volunteer Firefighters and E.M.T. Appreciation Day will be held Saturday Sept. 10th at 11 a.m.; also the Sunflower and George Lisher's Potato Soup Contests will be held with some great prizes to give away. All events will be held at Junction Lumber. Come on down and give these people a pat on the back. If you leave hungry, it'll be your own fault as the soup contest is judged people's choice and there is always more than enough to go around. We'll also have hot dogs (health food) and non-alcoholic beverages.

There are other volunteers in Potlatch and surrounding communities that devote a lot of their time doing things for others and are taken for granted. You know who you are and I thank you. With that being said, I'm starting a volunteer of the month recognition; this month goes to the Ladies at the Clothes Closet. Thank you for all the time you donate to our community.

Just when you think you've heard just about everything, someone will come up with a real doozy. Some stories are hard to swallow and living in Alaska for most of my life, I know that strange things have been done in the land of the midnight sun, although not by me. I do believe it's even stranger here around the Potlatch area with a few people in that same category. Again, not me. Would name a few, but afraid I might leave somebody out and don't want to hurt any feelings.

Speaking of swallowing, that's what this article is all about. In one end and out the other and I ain't a talkin' about ears. The person I'm about to write about isn't strange as far as I know but the experience she had is; although I don't ever remember seeing anything like it in "Ripley's, Believe it or Not." Jill Cochrane was out feeding her chickens not long ago and her wedding ring hung up on the handle of the feeder. (She was in the middle of a shake and bake program so it was too big for her finger). The ring slipped off and to her dismay, a chicken grabbed and swallowed it before she could react. Most women react on emotions, and poor Jill is not an exception, so instead of grabbing the chicken, she freaked, and ran to the house to get her husband

Andy. After revealing the situation, Andy had a laughing attack that he couldn't control which really stuck in Jill's craw. After calming her down somewhat and regaining his composure, Andy asked her which chicken was the culprit. Jill replied, the red one, so all he had to do was catch it, retrieve the ring and have chicken and dumplings for dinner. Problem solved? Unfortunately not, all the hens were red. Andy wasn't laughing anymore. Each one he butchered trying to retrieve the ring would mean less production of cackle berries and with his luck, it would most likely be the last one. They could have taken them to the vet and had 'em x-rayed but that would have been too expensive. Getting low on options, they decided to wait a few days to see if it would pass through and emerge from the south end.

They were now a potential candidate for the TV series "Dirtiest Jobs" and that honor went to Jill. Now any of you out there that know how regular a chicken is realize that it was not going to be a pleasant task. This ruffled Jill's feathers knowing that she had to sift through all that chicken-ah-, we'll just call it shoo-shoo. After a few days of sifting, she was beginning to think that a new ring was in order, with a bigger diamond, of course. On day five she was about to give up and find someone with a metal detector but to her surprise, there it was, with a dim sparkle in the morning sun, not looking quite as nice as when Andy gave it to her. On the bright side, she can always say her ring has gone where no ring has gone before. Jill, do you know Mrs. Cluck?

OUR SCHOOLS

The first month of school has come and gone, lickety-split. In that time, I have had the privilege to take in a volleyball game, a couple of football games, two Open Houses, and attend a luncheon for the graduating class of 1951. A wonderful turnout at all of them. I have also visited classrooms at the high school and the elementary school, watching our teachers and students interact daily. One day, I even took a turn at doing lunch duty with the Kindergarten and 1st Graders (I needed a week to "recuperate" from that)! I have met numerous students, numerous parents, and numerous community members, and I know that I'll meet many, many more each and every month. I share this because I want to emphasize how impressed I am with our community and the support shown to our schools.

Once in awhile, we tend to get "jaded" with our schools and with our communities. It's easy for us to fall into the trap of finding faults with either one. In a time where public education is under scrutiny, where rural communities are trying to maintain their identity, where families struggle day-to-day sometimes to make ends meet, it is great to know that we have a common bond that connects us and brings us together now and then and our schools do just that. The activities that I mentioned earlier that I attended were great indicators of what I expected, as far as support for our schools. A $1.2 million levy that passes is pretty special and impressive and once again, as representative of the District, I thank all those who supported this levy. But, equally impressive is a packed house for a football game on Friday night, or an Elementary Open House that brings families together from all over the district, to fill up the hallways, classrooms, gym, and cafeteria with laughter.

Although we, as educators, are always looking at ways to improve ourselves and to grow better at our "craft", it is extremely nice to know that we have the support of our community in all our activities and endeavors. Thank you one and all for a great start to our school year and your constant support.

PHS SETS HOMECOMING TIMES & DAYS

Homecoming Week at Potlatch High School will be the week of Oct. 3rd-7th. Sponsored by the school's ASB officers and cheerleaders, the week will have themed spirit days each week, as well as evening activities.

Theme days will be: Monday – Wild West Day; Tuesday – Super Heroes Day; Wednesday – Sports Day; Thursday – Celebrity (non-sports) Day; Friday – Green-&White Day. High school classes will take part in lunchtime competition each day except Wednesday. This year's competition is a game that combines Dodge ball with Capture the Flag. Seniors will play freshmen on Monday with juniors meeting sophomores on Tuesday. The losers will meet for 3rd-&-4th places on Thursday and the first-round winners will meet Friday for the championship.

Wednesday's lunch activity will be the annual "Powder Puff" volleyball game between boys of the Senior class and boys of the Junior class. This will be balanced out that evening with the "Powder Puff" football game involving the girls of the same classes on the Logger football field. A slate of activities will follow the football game, hopefully highlighted by the annual bonfire. The fire will be pending fire marshal approval of the conditions. If the fire is held, the events will be at the Scenic Six Park. If not, the bonfire-less evening will most likely continue at the football field.

Sports events that week will have the cross country team in its only meet of the week on Friday at the Hells Gate Invitational in Lewiston, the volleyball team on the road Tuesday at Cottonwood to play Prairie and Grangeville in a doubleheader, but at home on Thursday night to host Highland. The football team will host Clearwater Valley Friday night, followed by the Homecoming Dance in the school's MPR from the end of the game until midnight.

Community Groups to Host i2i Events

Several community groups will be co-sponsoring a couple of major events designed to help schools and the community build healthy students. The events will introduce the i2i program, which is designed to “take a closer look at the issues of underage drinking and substance use and supporting parents in their efforts to help kids make healthy decisions regarding drugs and alcohol.” The program is currently in use in dozens of schools and communities throughout Idaho.

Let's Get It Started (LGIS), the Potlatch Schools, the PHS chapter of Idaho Drug Free Youth (IDFY), and the Latah County Youth Advocacy Council (LCYAC), will be sponsoring a leadership retreat for students, as well as workshops at both the elementary and junior-senior high schools. Additionally, a community evening meeting is schedule. All events will take place in October.

Several secondary students will attend a leadership retreat in the North Idaho area the weekend of Oct. 14-16. They will be trained to help students with the i2i program as it is implemented at the school. Funding for this training was made possible through LCYAC and LGIS.

On Tuesday, October 18, i2i coordinator Gregg Sommers will conduct a workshop at Potlatch Elementary School. That evening, a free dinner for community members will be held at PES with a presentation by the i2i staff to follow. The next day, workshops will be held at the junior-senior high. The school will stay on its normal bell schedule but seventh-&-eighth graders will meet with the trainers in the morning and high school students will do so after lunch.

Information will be sent home with students and will soon be posted on the district's website. Further information can be found by calling the school principals – John Haire at the elementary (875-1331) and Kent Sherwood at the junior-senior high (875-1231).

AWANA

Awana began with 90 kids and 58 leaders and we are looking forward to a good year. If your child is not yet registered please bring them to the Princeton Nazarene Church on any Wednesday evening at 6:15 p.m. to get signed up. Awana is for ages 3-12th grade. For more information call Debbie at 875-0969.

Annual 4th-8th Grade Lock-in

If you are in 4th-8th grade, please come to our Annual Lock-in. This is a Lock-in that is Christ centered and really fun! It is being held Friday, October 21 to Saturday, October 22nd and from 8:00 p.m. to 8:00 a.m. at Community Presbyterian Church.

A parent must fill out a registration form for their youth to participate and there is a charge of $5.00 per youth to cover costs.

There will be snacks, games, songs and prizes! See you there! For more information contact Susan Renz at 208-875-1374 or Suzanne Veith at 208-875-1551. We look forward to seeing you there.

"LET'S READ" GETS "K" KIDS STARTED OUT RIGHT

Let's read! The beginning 8th grade Leadership class project this year involves partnering with Jo Minden and the Idaho Reads Vista Project to once again give book-filled reading bags to every kindergarten student at Potlatch Elementary.

Porsche Burns and Kathleen Meckel are among the FCCLA members who are embroidering the names of every kindergarten student on their very own reading bag, and then stuffing the bags full of books. They plan to visit the kindergarten classes and read, with their little buddies, about science and math and other fascinating subjects. The books were obtained from the Literacy Empowerment Foundation during the last school year, and now the 8th graders are excited to be able to give them away, according to their Leadership Teacher and FCCLA Adviser, Betty Sawyer.

"Our Entrepreneurship Program is able to supply reading tote bags and the embroidery on them through classes we teach here at PHS," she comments, "and having state Professional Technical Education funding helps with our projects like this through Family and Consumer Sciences."

JUNCTION LUMBER NEWS

Where if we want a new idea we read an old book

First off, I'd like to thank all the support we had for the Potlatch Fire/ Ambulance Appreciation Day as well as another big Thank You to that crew. You people are number one in our community's book.

This year's potato soup contest winner, sponsored by George Lisher, was Rebecca McKuin. She walked off with a $100 bill. She also won it last year. Second place was Deb Fusco. Tallest sunflower (142 inches) went to Bill Slinkard of Palouse walked away with the lawn mower and Penny Drewer from Endicott won the rototiller with the biggest flower which was fifteen inches.

We are still taking aluminum cans for the Potlatch Girls baseball team - just drop them off here at the Junction. The biggest load that came in so far was from the Riebold cow camp.

Here it is hunting season again with all the bow hunters out in full force trying to bugle that trophy bull into shootin' range. There's lots of huntin' stories starting to surface such as, "I had him within seven yards but couldn't get a clear shot and my arm was so sore from holding the bow string back that when I let 'er loose the arrow stuck in the ground in front of him." "Course, it always seems that it was in the Boone & Crocket category that got away. And then there's the one guy that'll sit in the coffee shop and tell anyone that'll listen about the one he almost got fifty or so years ago. The way I see it, it's kinda like fishin'. Each time the yarn is spun things seem to grow until sometimes you get to thinkin' that maybe a sixty pound trout might be stretchin' the truth a bit. I've been accused of that but those who know me know better and always been told, if it's in the woods it's a deer and if it's in the freezer its venison.

Then there's unrewarding events that emerge while getting ready for the season. One of these recently happened to Paul Ockerberg. I'm sure he wouldn't reveal what he did so I reckon it's my duty to do so. Now I'm going to stick to the facts as I remembered them and if I stray a bit I believe I'm protected under the freedom of the press law. So it goes something like this: Paul's wife, Paula, was in California for her job for a few weeks and Paul was staying home with their daughter Shasta, taking care of Paula's goats, which they both detested. (Paula and Mrs. Muffin are goat herdin' buddies otherwise knowned as "old goats." Paul decided he and Shasta would have a father - daughter day and took off to

Cabelas to get a few things for the upcoming hunting season. After spending a couple of hours drooling over all the cool stuff at Cabelas, they left with a top of the line, waterproof, breathable, quick-dry, lightweight, state of the art, camouflage, invisible to game outfit, that would be the envy of any hunter and surely increase anyone's chances of bagging wild game. Paul was happy with his purchase as he was amped up for the coming season. On the way home they stopped at a convenience store for a snack and noticed a bottle of deer and moose repellant that would, hopefully, keep the white tail rodents out of their ravaged garden. This all took place during the upper ninety degree heat wave we had. Well, he threw the deer repellant in the trunk with the rest of his stuff and headed for home. When they got close to Potlatch they were noticing a strange pungent odor and both figured it was the aftermath of the sauerkraut on them hot dogs they had for lunch. Realizing that this odor was far more revolting than Paula's goats and upon further investigation they discovered that the plastic bottle of deer repellent in the trunk with the new huntin' outfit, didn't fare well with that heat. As we all know, liquid + heat + plastic bottle = expansion = pressure resulting in something had to give, and it did. Only thing new about his outfit now was the nauseating smell which would run every buck off Hatter creek not to mention the hunters in the area.

So if you smell something dead, it's just Paul. Looks like they'll be eatin' goat this winter.

OUR SCHOOLS

There are so many positive things to talk about throughout our District and so much going on it's very hard to know where to begin and what to share as highlights and news for the month. However, I feel that it is important to share a little bit about the passing of Mark Mooror ("Farmer Mark" to many of you"). Mark passed away early Tuesday morning, on October 18th, due to complications from surgery the day before.

Mark was involved with a myriad of responsibilities in his life, one of which was being school board representative of Zone 2 for our district. He had served dutifully in this position for the past five years. My "experiences" with Mark, although few compared to many of you, were lasting and memorable.

Mark visited with me at the district only a couple of times in the short time that I have been here but the conversations that we had were straightforward and dealt always with these three questions, "How do we improve our schools?", "What can we do differently to ensure success?", and "What can I do to help?". We didn't have enough time in the day to answer these fully because there was so much to talk about, however, I could tell Mark was sincere in his responses, as well as truly interested in what I had to say about where I felt our district needed to go direction-wise and how we were expected to get there.

Being a school board member is not an enviable position. It puts that person in the crosshairs of the school and community over some issues that require tough decisions. It sometimes is a thankless position, one that requires patience, a sense of humor, the ability to communicate, the willingness to work as a "team" member, and, most importantly, a fundamental desire to help students, staff, and schools improve. Mark had all these characteristics and more. Mark's service and dedication to the school district was commendable and his presence will be sorely missed.

Leadership Guest Day

"Don't let things come to you, go to them," was a wise comment made by accountant Nick Nicholson, one of the guests at our recent leadership GUEST DAY. On October 11, several townspeople came to the Leadership classroom including our Superintendent Jeff Circa, 4-H Leader Steffani Anderson, Idaho Drug Free Counselor Lori Wallen, Let's Get It Started Chairman Kathi Nygaard, and Scenic Six Development Boosters Dave and Kendria Cada. A late-comer was Potlatch Booster Member Tamyé Lisher.

The 7th and 8th grade students interviewed these guests about their leadership roles in the community. Leaders spoke of their roles in making our community a great place to live. They shared successes and failures, and gave good advice to the students, such as "wait until you're married to have children." Or "make sure you go to college for greater academic and financial success." They also encouraged kids to step up and volunteer instead of waiting for things to happen to them.

One of the coolest comments, according to one student, was "I had to learn to trust kids to take charge of things at a meeting." This proved true at the Leader Guest Day, since the teacher was absent and the students, led by Angelica Diaz, stepped up and moderated the conversation and provided delicious snickerdoodles, grapes, carrots and homemade caramels for refreshments.

"This is our second annual Leadership Guest Day, and it was very successful," comment Betty Sawyer, class organizer.

JUNCTION LUMBER NEWS

Where we don't let the cat outta' the bag 'cause it's too hard puttin' it back in

The Harvard Ladies Annual Ham Dinner & Bazaar went well and if you went away hungry it was because you weren't there. Good job, gals!

Wood pellets, energy logs, heat tapes, insulation, tube sand and other cold weather related items in stock now! Stop by and bring cookies.

A Not So Good Day in Harvard

Seems as though most of my articles involve animals, as they are again in this issue. This one involves Mrs. Muffin and her critters. At this time, I would like to clarify that when I mention animals, I am not referring to Mrs. Muffin, but when this unfortunate experience occurred she did have that unpleasant aroma of one, which I'll explain later.

Now when we moved to Idaho from Alaska in 2000, Mrs. Muffin thought it would be cool to have a bunch of critters around such as horses, cows and goats. At one time she had eight horses and was in shock when she saw the volume of (we'll just call it "shu-shu") they left behind. You see, Mrs. Muffin has every John Wayne western that was ever made and not once did she see the Duke's horse make a mess or 'ole John clean up after one. Maybe in Hollywood, horses don't shu-shu. She realized this would require a lot of shoveling, adding to what is already necessary here at the Junction when Tim Reibold, Gene Griffin or certain others are on the other side of the counter. So she cut her herd down to two. Thinking that goats would be easier to follow around with a shovel, Mrs. Muffin acquired a herd and got into making goat soap, cheese, yogurt and whatever. She was soon to learn that they were a "shu-shuing" machine and spent a lot of time cleaning pens which she was a real stickler on. I do believe she has the cleanest goats in Latah County. Now that I have the stage set, I can set on with the rest of the story.

Mrs. Muffin was cleaning her goat pens, loading the shu-shu laced straw into the back of her pick-up. (Don't know anyone that would load it in the front, unless maybe Sue Elias). The pen she was working on was that of Beethoven, a young Nubian buck with a big buck odor. Everything was going fine and Mrs. Muffin was enjoying her afternoon off and staying downwind as much as possible. After moving the pickup to the place where we keep that sort of stuff, she proceeded to unload and was concentrating more on the shower she was about to take than what she was doing, and got tangled up with the cable that holds the tailgate up. The tailgate won. She was now in deep shu-shu, literally, head-first in a pile of Beethoven's you know what, with a broken leg, in two places.

Now you all are most likely wondering why I sound like I'm taking this lightly. As Mrs. Muffin puts it, "It could have been worse." Ironically what caused the problem, saved her from further harm with the soft landing. And after all, I heard tell that laughter is the best medicine. And that's no "shu-shu."

The Old Geezer

(formally known as Stud Muffin)

P.S. Carolyn is doing o.k. and we'll know later what Doctors decide what needs to be done. She also thanks all that called and sent cards and prayers.

Local Boy Scout Activities

Thank you to the Potlatch Community for helping us aid the Potlatch Food Bank! During this year's Scouting for Food day in early November, Boy Scout Troop 358 and Cub Scout Pack 317 (both from Potlatch) went door-to-door and collected 1000+ pounds of food and supplies for the Potlatch Food Bank. (If we missed you, you can still bring your donations to the food bank in City Hall.)

By the time you read this, the Boy Scouts will have already started their annual Christmas tree sales. Trees are again available at Junction Lumber. For a $12 donation per tree, come help support the Scouts of Potlatch Troop 358. Donations can be made at Junction Lumber during weekdays (thank you Dale!), and the Scouts will be available Saturday and Sunday.

POTLATCH COMMUNITY BAND CONCERT

PRCC Goal

~To establish communication between area and community groups, clubs and agencies to inform the public of upcoming activities and to have information available early to avoid scheduling conflicts.

~To enhance the quality of life of all area residents and to lessen the individual burdens of community governmental agencies.

- OUR SCHOOLS -

The holiday seasons have arrived. Thanksgiving is here and Christmas is right around the corner. These two holidays emphasize what we hold dear in our lives - our children and our families. The "gift" of giving is everywhere and spirits, young and old alike, are filled with excitement. However, these are not the only times of the year that "gifts" are given and have so much meaning and impact on our children and our families.

In May of this past year, our school district, with your support, passed a 1.2 million dollar levy, in order to help maintain and operate our schools and facilities. In these past few weeks, most of us, maybe all of us, have received in the mail a reminder of what that "gift" is costing us. The Latah County Tax Commission has sent you your 2011 tax bill and a breakdown of tax costs is there for you to see. You will see a small amount listed as a fort tax, which is an insurance tax to protect the school district from litigation. The largest portion of your tax bill will most likely be the increase from last year to this year of the supplemental levy. It might look overwhelming and, hopefully, is not too shocking.

That being said, instead of looking at what the cost is, I would like for you to look at what you are getting back. The increase in the levy was/is an investment in our children, our community, and our future - a guarantee, of sorts, to continue to provide a well-rounded quality education with quality teachers, instructional aides, and support staff for all of our students and allow us to provide opportunities for academic success. With this increase we have also been able to continue to offer and provide athletic programs, vocational programs, performing arts programs, and other programs that give our children the opportunity to "shine" in areas outside of the classroom.

So now, with the holiday seasons fast approaching, I tip my hat to all in this community who have supported our children and our schools. Thank you for your wonderful "gift"!

Little Logger Leaders

Mrs. Weeks' Sixth Grade: Layton Paul is our Little Logger Leader this month. He was recognized by several adults for his kindness and encouragement of a younger student. The student was having a hard time with some friends. Layton saw the situation and intervened. He redirected the other students and comforted the one that needed it as he escorted him away from the situation. Thanks Layton for being a great example to the younger students.

Mrs. Spellman's Third Grade: Lily Veith is our Little Logger Leader this month. Lily is a very kind girl to everyone she meets. She is respectful in the classroom and a very hard worker. Lily loves to read and has almost reached the AR 100 point club already!

Mrs. Myott's First Grade: Wyatt Johnson is Mrs. Myott's Little Logger Leader for November. Wyatt demonstrates the daily habit of putting first things first. Wyatt takes care of his important learning tasks first, and then he can work on other activities. Wyatt can work well by himself and with others. He knows when to ask for help if he needs it. Wyatt is caring and conscientious towards his classmates.

Mrs. Dawes Third Grade: Kaleb Southwick is our Little Logger Leader. Kaleb makes a big difference in our classroom and our school. He plans ahead and works toward his goals. He is caring and helpful to his classmates. Kaleb is proactive by being a responsible student and doing the right thing without being asked. He is very careful to listen to others without interrupting and seeks understanding. Kaleb is friend to all.

Mrs. Pfaff's Second Grade: Mrs. Pfaff's Little Logger Leader for November is Brandon Merrill. Brandon has been working hard these past months to take charge of his emotions. I am proud of how Brandon is now able to keep a level head when frustrated and make positive decisions about solutions. Keep up the great work Brandon!

Mrs. Krasselt's Fifth Grade: Our Little Logger Leader is Emily Timlin. Emily's display of good character traits is an asset to our class. She comes to school daily with a smile on her face, a positive attitude, and efficiency in getting her work done. Her classmates are often recipients of her kindness and caring nature. Well done, Emily.

Mr. Lam's Sixth Grade: Shasta Ockerberg, is our Little Logger Leader for November. She is always quick to address her class work, willing to help others, maintains a positive attitude and shows that she likes to learn.

Mrs. Wilcox's Fourth Grade: I have selected Tarah Peterson as the November LLL for 4W class. She is always ready to learn and is attentive to doing her best on her own work. She also assists others and is quick to volunteer when help is needed. Her attitude toward challenging work is great and she backs it up with stellar examples of a "job well done". You are a great addition to our fourth grade.

Mrs. Montgomery's Second Grade: Dawn Sheffler is my November Little Logger Leader. Dawn takes initiative for her behaviors. She has been choosing her own actions, attitudes and moods. Dawn shows great improvement on not blaming others for her wrong actions.

Mrs. Bartosz's Fifth Grade: Our Little Logger Leader is someone that uses her creativity to enhance her work. She also strives to accomplish all of her goals, big or small. Our Little Logger Leader is Hanna Hunter!

Mrs. Amos' Fourth Grade: The Little Logger Leader for Mrs. Amos's fourth grade is Jerrod Nicholson. He completes his work, does his homework and is kind and helpful. We are lucky to have such great kids in Potlatch Elementary.

Ms. Hargrave's First Grade: The Little Logger Leader for Miss Hargrave's class is Damon Lynas. Damon knows what needs to be done

PRINCETON STREET LIGHT UPDATE

There are currently five streetlights in Princeton, Idaho. The Princeton Grange is responsible for payment of these lights. Fundraisers and donations have contributed to pay for the lights.

To help minimize the monthly amount due, a decision to turn off two lights has been reached with Avista utilities. The two lights are being turned off, not removed, so please do not call Avista Utilities reporting them out. One streetlight being turned out is beside the Palouse River Community Center and the other is directly across from the community center. The lights will be turned off after December 1, 2011. Questions: Joanne Hemmelman 875-1503 or Bonnie Hash 875-0897.

Latah County Youth Advocacy Council Fall Update

It's a new school year and that means new ambassadors! Congratulations to our new Youth Ambassadors: Jacy Knock, Ashley Bull, Ben Schumaker, Whitney Fredicksen, Summer Harris, Kaia Cannon, and Lance Funke, as well as our returning Youth Ambassador's Becca Papineau, Jamie Jenkins, Jamie Lunders, Jake McMillan, Chelsi Nygaard, Ronnie Miller, Megan Alexander, Kenny Glessner, Rebecca Kruger, Nathan Suebert, Annie Malone, Pepper Curry, Alec Henson, Kristen Heier, and Sam Hoffman! If you see them in the community please take the opportunity to thank them for their service.

Many of these ambassadors made a splash at the annual Inland Radio Night at the Pool for the third year in a row on July 23rd. Many more members of our organization helped staff the LCYAC booth during the Latah County Fair. Our Totally Teen Tailgate was very successful this year as the University of Idaho Vandals took on the Fresno State Bull Dogs. A special thanks to JAMMS, Pepsi Max, and Vandal Meats for their generous donations as well as to our event partner Bull Country 99.5. LCYAC would like to remind you that although Red Ribbon Week is over and National Drug Facts Week is almost over, you can still spread the message throughout the holiday season! Take the opportunity to talk to your kids during family events like Thanksgiving and Christmas about the dangers of drugs and alcohol. Let them know how you feel about substance use, and educate them on the facts. Visit www.facebook.com/LCYAC2011 for more information on how to bridge the gap between you and your child.

Happy and safe holidays to all of you from the Latah County Youth Advocacy Council!

FAMILY BOARD GAME NIGHT ENJOYED BY SEVERAL

Several families enjoyed a "family board game night" at the Potlatch Public Library in honor of Idaho Family Reading Week. Door prizes and food were donated by, Harvest Foods, Friends of the Library, Idaho Commission for Libraries, Donna Quiring and Jo Minden. Thank you to all that attended.

HAT & MITTEN DRIVE A HUGE SUCCESS!

Will Riley and Curtis Barnhill, members of the FCCLA leadership class at PHS and Betty Sawyer, instructor, helped VISTA volunteer Jo Minden plan a hat & mitten drive. Will & Curtis decorated drop boxes and made flyers to advertise the drive. Boxes were placed at community churches the senior meal site and both schools. Hats & mittens will be collected and distributed to the elementary school, the clothing bank and the sharing tree.

A special thank you to contact people, Ellen McWilliams, Ida Courier, Lee & Darla Nicholson, Coralee Smith, Lisa & Bob Lambert, Marta Krasselt and to the family of Will Riley. The drive was a huge success and we would like to thank the community for all your support.

JUNCTION LUMBER NEWS

Where we can still say "Merry Christmas"

Here it is December already and I still don't have all of last spring's honey-do's done. On the other hand, it keeps the list from growing. Point is, I tacked another year on and unlike a snow ball, you can't dodge them. I realized this the other day when my grandson and I were out looking for that trophy buck. You have to remember that there's over sixty years in between us. He can see and hear deer long before I can and sometimes I never see what he's pointing at. Speaking of pointing, while we were hunting Little Dale, (grandson) had to, as the guys put it, "take a leak" (No offence meant here.) I figured that I would do the same as my holding tank ain't as big as it used to be. I couldn't help but notice that little Dale's stream shot out at least six feet before it started losing altitude. Here I was just trying to miss my boots. No fun getting old!

Did you all hear about Wayne Krasselt? Evidently he was loading up cattle and he got in between a moo cow and its calf. Fortunately, there was no bull involved unless you consider Wayne a bull. I don't think so but we all know that he is full of it. It could have been a better outcome if he would have realized that he wasn't twenty-five anymore and his reflexes were a bit on the rusty side. He has AT&T to thank for he had to call his wife, Millie, on his cell phone to tell her he couldn't walk and needed her to carry him back to the house. How long you been a cowboy Wayne? Hope your knee and pride are healing.

Remember Jerry Rohn's mishap with a cow a few years ago? The cow just knocked him down and stepped on his face. (Sorta sounds like a Elvis song). Poor Jerry was a mess in more ways than one. I won't go into details because it was kinda a shu-shuey deal. His daughter, Juli, didn't even recognize him. Seems like another case of rusty reflex's and I'm beginning to wonder about all these so-called Potlatch cowpokes. I'm starting to think that Wayne and Jerry and maybe a few others would have been better off raising range maggots (sheep). So what is the point of all this babbling? Has to be age and senior moments?!

Now, on the next two people I'm about to reveal aren't old and even if they were, I ain't crazy enough to say so anyhow, so I'll just call them young ladies. The first one, Janice Todish was working with her stud (not Kirk) and the stallion (again not Kirk) decided to take Haley's gelding out and I don't mean on a date. At this time it was a case of being in the wrong place at the wrong time and Janice was the unfortunate recipient of that head-on wreck. I heard tell that Janice was a hard-headed woman but that didn't apply in this situation.

Kirk took her to the Moscow hospital where they took one look, threw a towel over her head and sent them to Lewiston. According to Kirk, she wasn't all that bummed for she figured it was her fault and was thinking of getting a face lift anyway.

And then there's Marcia Moore Harrison. Marcia, Marcia, Marcia. what were you thinking? An equine at her stables had a bad habit of pulling it's stall matt out of place and Marcia was always replacing it. Well the way I hear, not thinking, she barged right in behind a horse that was half asleep, deep in la-la land. Yup, now Marcia was in la-la land with two broken ribs hugging the stall matt. She said she knew better and I'm sure she did. Shu-shu happens! Now you all are thinking that I think this was funny. I assure you I don't. What I find amusing is that I thought only us guys occasionally got brain gases..
